

EP-60 enteral feeding pump

The EP-60/EP-60C enteral feeding pump is intended to be used in combination with an enteral giving set and an enteral feeding catheter for adjustable infusion of nutrient solution into the gastrointestinal tract of the patient in hospital.

The pump can be used in the hospital for adults and children, but not for the neonatal. It is intended to be used in medical institutions, such as hospitals, clinics, and nursing homes, and can be equipped with a barcode scanner, a wireless networking module, a wired networking module, a nurse caller, a drop counting sensor, etc. according to the needs of the user.

Auto anti occlusion

Even between 2 meals, feeds will not clot

4,0" touch screen

Touch to set parameters, to learn, to use

Teaching videos inside

Demo videos are available

Giving sets

Spikes & bags available

Optional : heater

Heater works and stops simultaneously with the pump
Thermal insulation and safe voltage
Can reduce irritations in gastrointestinal tract

EP-60 enteral feeding pump
EP - 60